NT & Local Government Working Together

Today Darwin City Council and the NT Government met to forge a stronger future working relationship. Chief Minister Paul Henderson and Lord Mayor Graeme Sawyer met as part of the Capital Cities Committee.

Also attending as invited guests were the Allan Garraway of the Property Council and Julie Beaumont from the Chamber of Commerce.

Lord Mayor Graeme Sawyer described the meeting as “A start of a new era of communication bringing the two tiers of government closer together. It is the people of Darwin who will benefit from better co-ordination and service delivery.”

Darwin is an exciting place at the moment for development and the Darwin City Council is looking forward to greater input into the development of key projects to improve our great city. We can maximise outcomes with a more collaborative approach in developing our cityscape into the future.

Today’s Capital Cities meeting was a great success with all parties committing to stronger co-operation and consultation in the future.
